

NICK CATLIFF

Job title

Independent Governor

PROFILE

Nick Catliff is an experienced media executive and business leader with a long track record of building media companies and also producing highly successful creative content for TV networks around the world. Nick works as an executive producer and also acts as a consultant and business advisor to companies in the UK and USA.

Nick has over 10 years' experience as a board member in the non-profit sector, and was Chair of the Indie Training Fund where he led ITF through its merger with Creative Skillset. Nick joined the board of the new organisation, which was re-branded as ScreenSkills, and is the key training body for the screen-based industries in the UK.

Nick is a board member of The Jasmin Vardimon Company and Chair of its Audit Committee, and also a trustee of the Royal Central School for Speech and Drama sitting on the Audit Committee.