INGRID GRAY MA

Job title

Voice & Communication Coach

PROFILE

Ingrid has been working as a voice and accent coach all over London and the UK since graduating from Royal Central School and Speech and Drama with an MA in Voice studies in 2005. She specialises in pure voice and accent work as well as presentation skills, training and interview techniques.

Ingrid initially trained as an actor in London and continued to develop her skills and experience by working in post-production and voiceover sessions in recording studios for TV advertising and feature films. As a result Ingrid has been working as voice-over artist in recent years.

Ingrid is currently coaching corporate professionals at senior level to help develop confidence, vocal power and clarity in communication. Clients include BT, PriceWaterHouseCooper, IBM, Goldman Sachs as well as individual professional actors in film and TV.

Ingrid has recently been vocal coach to BAFTA nominated actor Johnny Harris for Monsters – The Dark continent, Vertigo Films and the Sky Atlantic TV series Fortitude. She has also been coaching actress Jo Hartley (Eddie the Eagle and David Brent 'Life on the Road').

In addition, Ingrid performs as a soloist and in a group with professional choir MKC.
